Why Now

Title III of the JOBS Act enabled early-stage companies to offer and sell securities to the general public for the first time.

The SEC followed with Reg CF, changing the landscape for private capital raising and investment:

- Allows general public to invest in private companies
- Enables private companies to advertise their security offerings
- Conditionally exempts securities sold under Section 4(a)(6) from the registration requirements of the Securities and Exchange Act of 1934
